

SLAUGHTER

Of People in the District of Monastir by Turks.

Twenty Thousand Men Engaged in An Attack on Village.

Kaiser Ready to Send Squadron to Turkish Waters The Moment Bulgaria Declares War—Powers To Act Together—Foreign News.

Constantinople, Aug. 22.—(Bulletin)—It is stated today that the Macedonian insurgents after a terrific fight, captured and burned the town of Vasilko, in Adrianople. Later they burned twelve neighboring villages.

Vienna, Aug. 22.—It is reported here on good authority that all the guard-houses along the Monastir-Salonica railroad line have been destroyed; that 20,000 Turks under Marshal Omer-rusht'i Pasha have surrounded and annihilated 1200 insurgents in the Monastir district, and that at Constantinople Thursday a Turkish soldier insulted and attacked an official of the Russian postoffice, who was severely wounded and had to be taken to the Italian hospital.

A dispatch from Monastir states that the Turks entered the town of Krushero, August 14, pillaged all the houses, stripped many persons naked and killed about 300 local Bulgarians and also some 60 innocent Greeks and Vlach.

About 5000 people are homeless and starving.

The Turks on Aug. 19 massacred 200 Bulgarians who surrendered at a village near Monastir.

At Kratofo half of the Turkish garrison has deserted, the men saying that they had enough to do at home. The Turkish authorities have mobilized their whole forces in Macedonia, numbering 18,000 men.

The Macedonian revolutionary organizations are preparing heavy assessments on the rich Macedonians resident in Bulgaria.

They have drawn up a complete list of names with the amounts to be demanded against them.

KAISER IS WATCHING.

Berlin, Aug. 22.—The German foreign department is eagerly watching the last few days' developments in the Balkans, even if everybody is made to believe that Germany takes no interest whatever in these affairs.

The Reichsanzeiger, the official organ of the government approves of Russia's action in every detail, and says Germany will side with Russia should Bulgaria issue a declaration of war.

In fact the general belief is that the whole squadron now maneuvering in the North Sea is ready to start for Constantinople within a few hours after the declaration of war. The semi-official Independence Belge says in an editorial of yesterday:

"All the great powers agree in the Balkan question and will act together in trying to put an end to these continued troubles."

GREAT SLAUGHTER.

Salonica, Aug. 22.—Details of the bombardment of Krushero by the Turks are only now at hand. The Turks entered the town August 14, pillaged all the houses, assaulted many of the women, stripped many persons naked and killed about 300 local Bulgarians and also some 60 innocent Greeks and Vlach. About 8,000 people are homeless and starving. The material damage done amounted to several million francs.

MANY WOMEN SLAIN.

London, Aug. 22.—According to a Belgrade dispatch the Turkish troops, under the pretext of pursuing revolutionary bands, have destroyed the villages of Armenska, Strebani, Metschani, Peckopanje, Nelkazi, Zelinich, Patele and Banitza, massacring the women and children. The male inhabitants fled to the mountains and joined the insurgents, who are especially numerous in the Chogane Mountain range.

REVOLUTION IS GROWING.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 22.—Russia's naval demonstration in Turkish waters is declared here to be an encouragement of the revolutionists in Macedonia. There is increasing alarm in regard to the situation. All the dispatches received here today indicate that the revolution in Macedonia is spreading.

A RICH MINE

Owned Jointly by Gen. Dick and E. H. Harper—Formerly Owned by Chas. Taylor Who Died Mysteriously in New York Hotel.

Denver, Col., Aug. 22.—On the day that Colonel Charles Taylor died in a New York hospital, alone in a great city, his fortune greatly, if not almost entirely reduced and his reputation as one of the most daring promoters of mining schemes in Colorado became a thing of the past, a sensational disclosure of a four-foot body of high-grade silver lead smelting ore, associated with paying gold value, in the famous May Mazepa mines was officially announced.

Colonel Taylor, in the zenith of his career, was the President and General Manager of the May Mazepa mines, and operated them for years. After he built the Mining Exchange Building, the stocks in these mines were traded upon quite largely, being reckoned, in fact, as the backbone of the Exchange. The death of Colonel Taylor and the big strike in the mines which he so long controlled, both on the same day, is regarded by mining men as a strange turn of fate.

The strike was made last Tuesday, and there was great rejoicing at the old camp of white pine and in the entire upper Tomichi Valley of the Gunnison county. It is a dependable ore body of fine commercial quality, and was uncovered in the roof in the big drainage and transportation tunnel driven by the Akron Mining company at a point 2,700 feet from daylight, 700 feet vertical from the surface, in the rich fissure vein dipping at 41 degrees pitch, big and strong into the depths of faithful old Lake Hill with all signs of fine strength and continuity.

Six weeks ago the big bore at the 3,500 foot point crossed a strong body of ideal concentrating ores of the following general average: 7 per cent gold, 15 per cent silver, 10 per cent lead and 20 per cent zinc. Without exploring this unexpected and welcome ore deposit the company pushed the big bore on 100 feet in search of the riches for which it was originally projected. One month ago the vein was blasted into, and so great was the flow of water which had been standing in the workings of the North Star and May Mazepa mines that the underground avenue was abandoned to the waters for a month. When Superintendent S. M. Miller and Contractor J. J. Clifford again entered the tunnel Tuesday they were confronted with a solid body of four feet of galena, which has been exposed by the great flow of water. When chunks of the ore were brought out they were recognized as genuine May Mazepa vein ore by the old miners in the gulch, who had worked on these mines at a shallow depth at the

RELiance WINS THE FIRST RACE IN THE SERIES WITH SHAMROCK III.

Highlands, Aug. 22.—At 8:49 a. m. the wind was blowing 8 knots. Reliance takes tow for the starting line. There is every promise of aspanking breeze and a snappy quick run over the course. Lipton says: "It is grand day and Shamrock will show her worth."

8:58 Shamrock breaks out her head sails and leaves for the starting line under her own sail.

9:00 a. m. wind seven knots, we t south-west, with indications veering to southward.

10:27 a. m.—The regatta committee finding that the wind was too much to the westward to permit laying a course 15 miles to windward, and return, has shifted the starting line to a point southeast of the light ship.

10:48 a. m.—Committee boat still proceeding to the eastward to establish a starting line.

11:30 a. m.—The preparatory gun was fired and the blue peter cone set.

11:37 a. m.—Both moats are on star-board tack jockeying for the start. The course will be a beat of 15 miles and return running south-west by west. The starting gun fired at 11:45. Starting time Shamrock 11: 45:05, Reliance 11:45:21.

12:05 p. m.—Reliance is slowly establishing an over lap on Shamrock, with Reliance in windward position.

12:08 p. m.—Reliance over laps Shamrock and takes lead. She is now forcing weather passage.

12:11 p. m.—Captain Wrange is pinching his boat in order to keep from being backwinded.

12:12 p. m.—Reliance tacks to port.

12 13 p. m.—Shamrock comes about to port.

time they produced over $1,000,000 gross.

The ore deposit may now be opened out rapidly and connections will be made with the large known ore slopes of Galena, carbonates and sulphides in the bottom of the North Star mines. These lead mines are now considered to have a future before them far better than their brilliant past, after having passed through all manner of mining vicissitudes.

The mines were located by Henry F. Lake, of Gunnison, a veteran prospector. The big tunnel for driving and purchase of claim represent an outlay of $166,000. It was financed from Akron, Ohio, by prominent manufacturing people, headed by L. C. Miles, ex-Mayor E. R. Harper and Congressman Charles Dick of Ohio. It had the hearty indorsement of such noted min-

12:15 p. m.—Wind is west south-west nine knots and holding.

12:37—Race has developed into a hot scrap and there are not many seconds between yachts Reliance still holding slight lead.

12:56 p. m.—Wind is still strong at ten knots and at this time Reliance is gaining and has a fair lead. She is not only to windward but is ahead.

The yachts made fast in their turn to weather to nine knots breeze. There was a lather of foam under their bows and along the lee rails. The Englishman is making a surprisingly good fight in view of Thursday's performance and Reliance's lead over her at the end of the first half hour sailing was but a matter of seconds. Shamrock with baby jib topsail doused, was doing much better work than she did in the first ten minutes of sailing. The race soon developed into a hot fight, and so the skipper fought along until the end of one hour's sailing, Reliance had gained about 25 seconds on her adversary and held him firm on leeward quarter.

12:50 p. m.—Reliance has a lead sufficient to overcome the time allowance against her.

1:28 p. m.—Both yachts set jib topsail.

1:33 p. m.—Yachts are within two miles from the outer mark and the Defender is sailing faster every minute and increasing her lead.

Reliance rounded outer mark at 1:55:30. Shamrock at 1:57:43. Reliance has out her buloon jib and is running before the wind.

Unless there is an accident, Reliance holds the race safe. Both yachts are running home with the wind almost dead astern.

2:25 p. m.—Reliance leads by over-ing engineers and operators, as W. J. Rattle, a mining engineer of international reputation upon the staff of Senator Mark Hanna, of Ohio, and who passes upon all of Mr. Hanna's mining properties; Howard E. Platt, the noted Leadville consulting engineer of the Yak Tunnel mine; James J. Brown, of Leadville, and D. H. Moffat, an old mining superintendent and an owner of the peerless Little Johnny gold mine.

four minutes and is constantly increasing her lead.

RELiance WINS.

Highlands, Aug. 22.—The official time: Reliance 3 17:45; Shamrock 3:34:15.

TO BE REMEASURED.

New York, Aug. 22.—Shamrock III is to be remeasured. Monday morning early the yacht will be brought up to Erie Basin and C. D. Mower, the official measurer will run his tape over Shamrock again. It has developed that Shamrock broke a weighing rule when she was measured last week. She did not carry an anchor and chain, which she should have done under the rules. These weights will be aboard when the yacht is remeasured Monday. It will certainly take something from her allowance and there is a slight possibility that she may be disqualified if she wins today's race. Disqualification would come only if the yacht measured over 90 feet.

THE FIRST RACE.

Highlands, Aug. 22.—Just 52 years ago today the schooner yacht America sailed against a fleet of Englishmen around the Isle of Wight and won the Queen's cup which is known today as the American cup. The yacht America is tied up at Chelsea bridge near Boston, and were she to be put in commission would today show her heels to many a more modern craft.

ANOTHER LARGE CROWD.

New York, Aug. 22.—Quite as large a crowd as witnessed the first brush between the yachts went down on all sorts of craft to see Shamrock and Reliance race today. At 9 o'clock the breeze was still holding steady at 7 knots.

OIL FIRE

Is Raging in Texas and the Loss Will be Enormous—A Fire at Sour Lake.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—A special to the Daily News from Sour Lake, Texas, says: "The oil field fire which started here last evening is still burning. Not a derrick is standing in the Shoshone district. In addition to the destruction of derricks many oil wells have been destroyed and several hundred thousand barrels of oil are burning. The loss is now estimated at $1,500,000, and it was exceed this sum should it spread to wells now protected with earth of the embankments."

FIRE AT CAMP

Camp McKinley, Aug. 22.—Chemicals exploded at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the tent of Harry Dowling of Dayton and in a minute the fire call was sounded. In three minutes 500 men were on the scene from the Ninth battalion, Second, Third and Sixth regiments. The tent was destroyed and Mr. Dowling, acting as secretary to Major Weaver, brigade surgeon, lost nearly all of his personal effects. No body was hurt.

HANNA

And Herrick Left Camp Saturday Afternoon for Cleveland—Both Pleased With Visit.

Camp McKinley, Aug. 22.—Senator M. A. Hanna and Col. Myron T. Herrick left Camp McKinley at 2 o'clock p. m. Saturday for Cleveland where Colonel Herrick had an engagement for the evening.

Senator Hanna stayed all night at the home of Postmaster Joseph M. Ickes as he did not think sleeping in a tent would be conducive to a betterment of his rheumatic ailment.

Promptly at 9:30 o'clock this morning the Senator arrived in camp in a carriage and was driven to Governor Nash's quarters where he was warmly greeted by the Governor, Col. Herrick and Gen. Dick.

Senator Hanna said that he was feeling very well except an attack of lumbago from which he is now suffering in connection with his rheumatism. He was soon engaged in good natured badinage of Col. Herrick and the newspaper men who surrounded him.

Speaking of the camp the Senator became serious and said:

"This is a magnificent, fine ground, a fine body of men and every condition is perfect for a most successful camp. I have been greatly pleased with my stay in camp and only regret that it can not be prolonged."

Col. Herrick stayed all night in camp and got up at 5 o'clock. Friday night he visited a while with his son Parmley Herrick, a private in Troop A of Cleveland. Col. Herrick was formerly a member of the Ohio National Guard and has lost none of his interest in its welfare. He is conscious of the vast improvement that has been made in point of efficiency compared with its condition years ago when he was a member. The Colonel expressed himself in enthusiastic terms about the encampment and the work being done by the troops.

"Colonel, I suppose you are interested in the coming Democratic state convention," queried the writer.

"Yes, I am anxious to know who will be my opponent," replied the Republican candidate for Governor of Ohio, "and I see there is a merry fight on."

"Who will win, Colonel?"

"Well, it is my impression that Tom

REVIEW

Of the Division a Magnificent Spectacle Witnessed by Many People Friday Afternoon.

The greatest military spectacle ever witnessed in Ohio was the grand review of the entire division of the Ohio National Guard, by Governor Nash and General Charles Dick. This spectacular feature occurred on the big field which borders Racoon creek, and the bluff on the camp ground side was crowded with thousands of people, who were delighted by the magnificent sight.

The first call for review was sounded at 4 o'clock, but it was after five before the formation of the troops was complete. The first brigade commanded by General W. V. McMaken occupied the west side of the field, the battalion of Engineers having the right side of the line while troop B, was standing at attention at the left side. Between these two organizations every National Guardsman in Ohio, not sick or on guard duty, stood, while Governor Nash and General Dick rode down the front of the line.

The formation was in lines of masses, each regiment being three companies wide, and four deep.

Beginning at the right side of the line Governor Nash and General Dick with their staffs started to ride the length of the field in front of the soldiers, as they passed each regiment the band played "Hail to the Chief," and the men came to a position of salute.

The entire division headed by General Dick then passed before Governor Nash, in review. As soon as the General commanding, passed the Governor he took his position beside the commander in chief, and became one of the reviewing party.

The organizations passed in the following order:

FIRST BRIGADE.

Brig-General W. V. McMaken and staff.

Battalion of Engineers.

1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 6th regiments. 9th battalion.

SECOND BRIGADE.

Brig. General J. C. Speaks and staff. 4th, 5th, 7th, and 8th regiments. Batteries A, D, H and B.

Troop A.

Troop B.

There will be another review of the Division Sunday afternoon.

A HIGH COMPLIMENT.

Major Rogers of the Twentieth U. S. Infantry, who is an expert in artillery, passed a deserved compliment on the work of Battery A, of Cleveland, The amount is about $60.00.

commanded by Captain Julius A. Blasius.

In speaking to Col. Freese, chief commissary of the division he said that there was not a battery in the regular service that was better drilled and disciplined than the Cleveland battery. This compliment comes from a high authority and is greatly appreciated by Captain Blasius and his men.

BOARDS OF SURVEY.

Orders have been issued appointing two boards of survey, which are to meet at once. The first consists of Captain Bush, Battery H, Captain Patton, Battery B, Captain Howland, Battery D, who are to examine the 32 inch gun reported unfit for service by Captain Blasius of Battery A.

The second board consists of Captain Bush, Battery H, Lieut. McBain, Battery D, and Lieut. Chamberlin, Troop B, who will examine and determine the injuries to a horse hired for Battery B, which was hurt Friday.

GOVERNOR'S APPETITE.

Governor Nash has developed a good appetite from his life in camp. Col.

GOV. NASH

Thinks Ohio Men Will Not be Sent to Pennsylvania to Camp Next Year.

Governor Nash said Friday afternoon to an Advocate reporter, that he did not believe the idea of a corps encampment next year in which the Ohio and Pennsylvania guards would participate, would be carried out.

"I do not believe the Ohio guard will leave the state next year," said Governor Nash, "as I don't believe the Legislature would appropriate the necessary money. If a rate of a cent a mile were secured the cost of transportation would be enormous. We in Ohio appreciate the friendly feeling of the Pennsylvania National Guard officers, in suggesting a camp in which the two states would take part, and in many ways it would be very beneficial to the soldiers of both states, but I do not believe the plan can be carried out next year."

"My stay in camp has been pleasant and beneficial to me. I feel much general opinion that all the companies got through this time. If this is the case they will get their new guns shortly after reaching home.

The companies inspected yesterday were A and I of the Second; A, D and G of the Fourth; G of the Eighth and B of the Seventh.

It has been published that B. and C companies of the Seventh were found deficient in the first inspection. This is incorrect. These companies were simply short of men, the Fourth regiment being in such condition then that men were dropping out and none coming in, and as there were not enough "Kraes" to go around these smaller companies were not given them.

FIVE

Is the Review Field at the Camp Ground—Suggested That Engineers Improve the Bluff.

Much has been in praise of the state camp grounds, but little has been said about the reviewing field. Like the rest of the camp this field is of a high order of merit. While it is not quite so large as it should be, it is likely that no state has a field so spacious. From the military point of view the field, therefore, is not quite perfect. From spectators' side, however, the natural conditions are perfect. A bluff nearly 50 feet high extends along more than half of the field. The slant is such that there is an easy slope 60 to 75 feet wide on which spectators can sit. The review can of course, be seen perfectly from there. The state should improve the bluff by enlarging on the natural advantages to make a grand stand from which any number of people, from 1,000 to 100,000 could see reviews. There are some folks, who would like to know if there is anything the Engineers can tackle and fall down on, who suggest that Major McQuigg's men be put to work on this improvement.

Lieutenant Colonel Chas. C. Ames, assistant inspector general of the division is feeling very proud over having been chosen to form yesterday's review. The duty and honor is really that of Lieutenant Colonel Wright, assistant adjutant general, but that gentleman is the busiest man in camp, and his duties at headquarters were so heavy and imperative that some one else had to be detailed and Gen. Dick allotted the honor to Col. Ames. That Colonel Ames is big enough for the job is attested by all who saw the review, the regular army officers being among the most enthusiastic witnesses of the division's formation.

To the average spectator the part of the review most closely watched is the line the companies make as they pass the reviewing officers. To the military man, however, the important thing is the formation of the division before the review really begins. This is the point on which Col Ames got compliments that he values highest. To get 6,000 men, of all branches of the service into line without confusion and in such a way that they all take their correct places at once and do not have to march around more or less, requires skill and knowledge of the highest order. So well did Col Ames and his aids do their work that even those among the spectators, wholly untutored in military maneuvers, saw clearly just what was being done and why. As evidence of the manner in which the review was formed it need only be said that the troops were marching back to their quarters at 6:30 when the most radical guesses had been been that the hour would not be earlier than 7. To form the first review ever made by the Ohio National Guard is indeed a high honor, and Col Ames is justified in feeling proud, and to acquit oneself as Col Ames did, is additional reason for pride.

There was much speculation as to why the battalion of Engineers led the division past the reviewing officers. It is simple enough. It was not a right but an honor and compliment from the commanding general. The Engineers are brigaded with the Second which is ranked by the First brigade. Gen. McMaken ranking Gen. Speaks, though their commissions were issued upon the same day. The Engineers, therefore, should have marched with the Second brigade. Gen. Dick is as proud of this unusual organization as anyone is and as appreciative and he indicated his feelings by detaching the battalion from the Second brigade and ordering it to lead the division. Major McQuigg and his men, needless to say, are full of gratitude and pride for the distinction. There was applause all along the line of spectators when the Engineers came past. Their cadence was perfect. While every organiza-

HUMBERT TRIAL.

Paris, Aug. 22—Public interest is growing more intense as the Humbert trial is nearing its close and the crowds at the palace of justice were much augmented today. Maitre Labori continued his address for the defense. He caused a sensation by a bitter denunciation of M. Cattini, the money lender, for prosecuting the Humberts, and, incidentally, mentioned that Waldeck Rousseau and M. Valles, participated in the prosecution. He declared the political parties' leaders had become degenerate. The charge of Maitre Labori, although disavowing specific accusations, reflected severely on the chief personages in the system of the administration of justice. Advocate Clunot followed in defense of Emile Daurignac.

TO BREATHITT

Salvation Army Men Will March from the South to Reform Feudists of That Section.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 22—Staff Captain J. M. Berriman, of Atlanta, says that plans have been laid by the Salvation Army to invade the feud section of Kentucky and Tennessee, and a half hundred Salvationists from this state will march into the mountains of the state early next month.

The recent outbreak in Breathitt county is responsible for the culmination of a project that has been under consideration by the army for quite a while. Captain Berriman, who will lead the invading band, says that he expects no trouble, but that a strong fight will be made by members of the army to change conditions in the feud section. The Salvation band will go into the heart of the feud districts and endeavor to change the hearts of the feudists.

Captain Berriman is selecting members of the invading detachment, which will number 50 men and women. About 12 members of the band will go from Atlanta. The remainder will be drawn from Cincinnati and other places.

ORGANIZATION

Of the New Democratic County Executive Committee.

The new Democratic County Executive Committee met at the sheriff's office on Saturday as per the published call. There was a full attendance and the session was brief. The committee organized by the election of the following officers:

Chairman—Wm. H. Anderson, Jr.
Vice Chairman—Frank Householder.
Secretary—E. W. Crayton.
Treasurer—H. L. V. Holtz.

With such an able, judicious and efficient committee to manage the campaign this fall there is no doubt whatever that the whole Democratic ticket in Licking county will receive a larger majority than has been obtained for several years. With such a committee our triumph is assured. It will begin the necessary preliminary work at once.

President Roosevelt is fighting the trusts? Rot. He is their best friend. He, as no other living man, knows how to tickle them and at the same time make the multitude, who see his fierce face and vigorous gestures, believe that he is mauling the immortal ichor out of them. The trusts have great need of just such a man at this juncture to save them from the wrath of an outraged people. It is a part of their game that Wall street and the trusts are to be against Roosevelt this year. Next year, when the campaign is on, it will be found that the G. O. P. is getting financial support from its old-time friends—the trusts. How long will the people be fooled?

In a recent interview Judge Parker of New York, spoken of as a possible Democratic candidate for President, takes ground against our long drawn out and excited and sometimes angry Presidential campaigns, lasting from start to finish pretty well on to a year. In Judge Parker's opinion they occupy too much time and cause too much disturbance to business. His views have attracted attention and are worth quoting:

"I believe the time between the nominating convention and the election too long. It keeps the country disturbed for too long a period. Before the advent of the telegraph, the newspaper and the railroad in their present stage of development it required time to present to the people the great questions of the day and the issues as to men and measures. In the days of our forefathers orators and political stump speakers traveled on horseback or on foot, and the newspapers, when compared with those of today, were slow mediums for the dissemination of news. Even the farmers in these days are reading the daily newspapers to a large extent instead of the weeklies of former days and of former generations. It might be that the country would welcome a cutting down of the campaign period."

RECRUITING

OFFICE FOR U. S. NAVY IS TO BE OPENED.

Advance Representative of the Party
No. 6 Tells What is Done With Men Who Enlist.

Merle W. Shumate, of the United States Navy, has been in the city for several days, and on next Monday will open a recruiting office in the basement of the court house, for enlistments. Mr. Shumate is the advance representative of recruiting party No. 6. Upon enlisting the recruit is sent at government expense, to one of the navy yards—at New York, Philadelphia, Boston or Norfolk—where he is fitted with a uniform and instructed in the rudiments of naval life; how to tie up his hammock, to brush and fold his clothes, etc. Those with traces are instructed with reference to their particular duties on board ship; for instance, machinists familiarize themselves with marine engines and boilers; carpenters with boat building etc. After gaining a fair knowledge of naval requirements, the recruit is transferred to a cruising man-of-war. Here he is open to advancement, according to his ability. He arises at reveille, lashes his hammock, and has breakfast. About 9 o'clock all hands go to muster and drills. Drills in the navy are of great variety and, hence, do not become monotonous. Thus, they have boats under oars and sail; great gun drills; fire drills; infantry, artillery, fencing, pistol practice, clear ship for action, etc.

As regards amusements, every ship has her racing boat, has ball nine and foot ball team; and there is much rivalry between the different ships. And many have their minstrel troupe, which is a source of great pleasure to the ship's company and their friends.

It may not do, however, to suppose that life in the navy is all play, for a sailor has his hard work and privations as well as any other else. However, the life is an unusually healthy one, and, all other considerations thrown aside, it is well worth the while for a young man to serve one enlistment in the navy for the experience alone.

Young men without a trade enlist as landsmen and are instructed in the trade of seamen. Many such have risen to the grades of seamen, and petty officers within a couple of years. The pay of landsmen is $16 a month and from that it goes upward. The wages of mechanics are fixed to meet those paid on land, and of course, board is furnished in addition. Also, on first enlisting a complete outfit of clothing and uniforms are given free.

FAMOUS WOMAN SCOUT.

How "Calamity Jane" Got Her Name. One of Her Darling Feats.

The late noted female character "Calamity Jane," who had been known on the western frontier since 1870, was christened Calamity Jane in 1872 by Captain Egan, then commander of the army post at Goose Creek, S. D., whose life she had saved, says the New York World. Captain Egan was shot from his horse by an Indian. The woman scout killed the Indian and, picking up the wounded officer, she placed him across her saddle and rode off to the fort under the fire of other Indians. When Captain Egan, who was unconscious at the time, learned the circumstances of his rescue, he said to his preserver:

"You are a good person to have around in time of calamity, and I christen you Calamity Jane, the heroine of the plains."

Buffalo Bill (Colonel) Cody tells the following story of Calamity Jane: "In 1876 Jane, by a daring feat, saved the lives of six passengers on a stagecoach traveling from Deadwood, S. D., to Wild Birch, in the Black Hills country."

"The stage was surrounded by Indians, and the driver, Jack McCaul, was wounded by an arrow. Although the other six passengers were men, not one of them had nerve enough to take the reins. Seeing the situation, Jane mounted the driver's seat without a moment's hesitation and brought the stage safely and in good time to Wild Birch."

"Jack McCaul afterward recovered, and some time later, while in Deadwood, he assassinated Wild Bill, one of Calamity Jane's best friends. The murder was a cold blooded one, and it was the general opinion that lynching was only too mild for him. Calamity Jane was in the lead of the lynching party, and it was she that captured the desperado. She had left her rifle at home, but with a butcher's cleaver she held him up, and a very few minutes later McCaul's body was swinging from the limb of a cottonwood tree and his soul had passed over the great divide."

AN AUTOMOBILE YACHT.

Its Inventor Expects to Explore Florida Swamp in Novel Craft.

Destined for service both on land and water, the much discussed "automobile yacht" will soon be prepared to make its journey to the south, says the New York Herald. As far as both marine and terrestrial architecture are concerned the amphibious craft is not a thing to delight the eye, for it has lines which have never been considered beautiful.

Its inventor, Anton Schmidt, a cabinet maker of Newark, N. J., who built it, says that he is sure that it will do all that is required of it either in the water or on dry land and that soon he will make his arrangements to go to Florida, where he has been invited to explore a swamp. Near Ocala, he has been informed, there is a morass which incloses a more or less active sulphur volcano. Rank vegetation abounds on the outskirts of the region, and in the center there is an unexplored spot believed to abound in sulphurous fumes and salamanders.

The vessel has had a trial trip in the waters near Newark, and when all the machinery is placed in it he believes that within a few weeks he will reach the region which awaits his investigation.

This land and water craft, as Mr. Schmidt calls it, is forty-five feet in length, eight in beam and has a draught of three feet. Its total height is only a trifle more than six feet, just enough to permit a man to stand up inside. It has five wheels in all, two large ones at the side and one at each end and a small one beneath, which serves as a support when the craft is on dry land and as a means of propulsion when it is immersed. The greater part of the power will be applied to the side wheels.

The inventor thinks that the craft may easily proceed at the rate of six miles an hour on land and eight in water.

MELONS ON A PEACH TREE.

Uncle Billie Somers' New Idea For Annual Garden Frank.

If Uncle Billie Somers, who has a small truck farm at Churchtown, near Pennsville, N. J., does not surprise his neighbors each season in growing something of the freakish nature he puts it down as a poor season, says the Philadelphia Press. Growing watermelons in boot legs, citrons in bed springs and squashes with inscriptions on them is his hobby, but this year he has succeeded in filling a peach tree with watermelons.

Surrounded with blushing peaches in one large tree several nearly ripe watermelons are hanging, or, rather, propped up, and the sight is a remarkable one.

Uncle Billie has always had watermelons at Christmas time. He has a knack of keeping them in good condition and generally invites his friends to the feast. He says when the time comes that he can't beat his neighbors with something new he is ready to quit.

A New Plan For Huckleberry Pickers

William Gilbert, near New Paris, Ind., is running his twenty-five acre huckleberry marsh on a novel plan, says the Indianapolis News. Instead of giving the pickers a share of the berries Mr. Gilbert has invited the public to pay 25 cents admission to the marsh and pick as many berries as they can during their stay. At the opening of the marsh there were forty-six teams and 123 people awaiting entrance. People are flocking thither from all directions and are taking away immense quantities of berries, which are fine and plentiful.

What You Ought To Know About Ohio Tax Laws

A DISCUSSION BY
LAWYER THORNDIKE AND FARMER PERKINS

NUMBER THREE (To Be Completed in Ten Numbers).

FARMER PERKINS—Continuing our conversation on the tax lists, in practice does anyone refuse to list his property or swear to it after listed?

Lawyer Thorndike—I never knew or heard of a case where a party refused to list or to swear or affirm to after listed?

Farmer Perkins—Can you account for the fact that none refuse to list or to swear to the list?

Lawyer Thorndike—That is easily accounted for. It is easier to beat the state by making one's own list and verifying it than by trusting the assessor.

Farmer Perkins—Then, in fact, the auditor rarely has an opportunity to add fifty per cent to the assessor's tax return?

Lawyer Thorndike—That is the case. The auditor is necessarily a place man. If in his first term he wants his second term, and if in his second term he wants another office, and in any event, he does not intend to make himself unpopular.

Farmer Perkins—I notice on my tax blank that if I fail to make a return I shall forfeit and pay to the state from $100 to $500. Has there ever been any enforcement of this provision?

Lawyer Thorndike—I never knew of a case in the state, not even a prosecution begun. The tax bearer finds his opportunity in making his return and he never fails to exercise it.

The theory of the law is that every tax bearer is his own assessor, and to allow an interested party to hear and determine his own case is too good an opportunity to be lost.

The idea of the Hon. Alfred Kelley, the founder of ad valorem system in Ohio, was that under the sanction of oaths, the tax bearer would tell all about his property, and all men would make returns according to the exact truth, known only to the tax bearer himself. The sanction of oaths has proven worthless and useless. It has taught people they can commit moral perjury with impunity, and that by so doing they can largely escape the burden of taxation.

The law taxing personal property, moneys, credits and stocks is merely a threat by the state, and a threat which in three-fourths of the cases cannot be carried into execution.

The state should attempt nothing which it cannot do. It ought to be a great teacher of morals, but in the tax laws it teaches immorality and perjury.

Farmer Perkins—Is there then no way in which the state can ascertain the intangible property of its citizens and compel it to bear its burdens of taxation?

Lawyer Thorndike—There is practically no way. If the state could put each tax bearer on the witness stand and compel him to tell all he had and his entire condition, the system might be a success. But if this were done it would cost the state more than the taxes. It would require ten years to get the basis for one year's taxation, and thumb-screws and all other kinds of physical torture would not compel the truth. Those who were not in debt and had no intangible property would tell the truth. Those who were in debt or had much intangible property would not. The methods which would come the nearest producing the facts would not be tolerated by the public, and would only be admissible in an absolute monarchy. The methods necessary to sustain the system cannot be used, and hence its failure. The ideas of the Hon. Alfred Kelley's system were pure theories, incapable of practical application, and there is nothing more dangerous in taxation than theories. The man with a theory is an enemy of the state and of mankind, when it comes to matters of taxation.

The people of Ohio have given no thought or study to questions of finance and political economy. They have been at the mercy of the theorists who could secure places in the legislature or in the constitutional convention of 1851, and these theorists have done with them what they would.

The farmers supported the Hon. Alfred Kelley's ideas because they believed they could compel the rich people of the community to pay taxes on intangible wealth. The possessors of intangible wealth have supported the Kelley ideas because they thought thereby they could better in that way avoid paying such taxes as they chose. Owing to the difficult and impracticable method of amending the constitution of Ohio the system has lasted from 1846 to the present time, and for fifty-seven years the people of Ohio have been compelled to attempt every year the enforcement of exploded theories, enforced upon them by men long since dead.

Farmer Perkins—But does not the present generation have a right to govern itself according to its own ideas?

Lawyer Thorndike—Certainly not. No matter what might be the ideas of the present generation of the people now living in the state, they are compelled to live according to the legacy of that body of men who formed the constitution of 1851.

In Great Britain the people live up to modern present-day ideas, because it is not hampered by a written constitution charged with legislation, but in this country we are compelled to live up to written constitutions formed by persons living at a remote age and under conditions totally unlike the present.

Men will not submit to wear the fashion clothing of a remote generation, but they will and do submit to be governed by the ideas of a remote generation. The business of the community is not conducted according to the ideas and methods in vogue in 1851, but its government is. Until the people rise in their might and, by change of the organic law, make the legislature free to adopt any method in accord with present ideas, there will be no relief.

Heretofore the ideas of the farmers that the system of 1846 could be enforced and the ideas of the classes who could use it to avoid taxation have prevailed. These two classes have constituted the majority of the community or been able to control the majority by specious, but fallacious, arguments, and so we have been held in thrall to Alfred Kelley's ideas. The political economists who do the thinking on matters of taxation have uniformly condemned the present system, but they are not as yet listened to or heeded by the general public. The people have begun to think on the subject of taxation, but have not expressed themselves. They have been content so far to live according to the legacy of 1851, but there are now hopes that they will form ideas of their own and try to carry them into execution.

PRINCIPLES OF JUST TAXATION.

The Ohio State Board of Commerce will not permit the people to be misled in their action upon the taxation constitutional amendment. It has published for the information of the people a statement of the principles by which its action on this subject has been and will continue to be guided, and challenges anyone to give a good public reason for not endorsing them. This statement follows:

Taxation Principles.

1. A taxable subject should be taxed but once.
2. All taxable subjects, similar in generic character, capable of being taxed upon an identical basis, should be included in the same class.
3. Taxable subjects assigned to a tax district should be such subjects as the taxing body of the district can value intelligently and justly.
4. Publication should be made annually of all taxable values in every tax district. The statement should give the full name and address of the taxpayer, the class and location of the property, with a sufficient description for correct identification. The statement should be published within 30 days after the taxable values have been determined, and a copy should be mailed to every taxpayer whose name appears in the statement. Copies of the statement should be sold publicly at cost. For the purpose of simplifying the work and reducing the cost of publication, a taxing body may divide a tax district into small assessable sections, and publish the taxable value statement in separate series, one number for each section, and only mail to taxpayers a copy of the number or numbers containing their name. Publicity is the natural regulator of the enumeration and valuation of taxable subjects. It is indispensable to a simple and just system of taxation.
5. Equalization of valuations should be made between taxpayers only, never between tax districts, by a board of review for the district in which the subjects taxed are situated. A taxpayer should have a right of appeal from the decision of the board of review of the tax district in which property owned by him is situated to a county board of review. When the tax district is a county, or the state, the taxpayer's right of appeal should be to a state board of review, or to the supreme court of the state.
6. When the general assembly defines and classifies tax districts, it should fix a minimum indebtedness for each district, determined by a fixed per cent of the total taxable value of the taxable subjects assigned to it.
7. When the general assembly defines and classifies taxable subjects, it should fix a maximum tax rate for each class of subjects.
8. Valuations and rates should be fixed by the taxing body directly responsible to the taxpayers, without right of or reason for interference by any other authority.
9. Laws and their administration governing valuations and rates should be as simple and direct in their operation as possible, and should be open to publicity at every step.
10. Regulation taxes, when for a public service privately used, such as a water service, should be sufficient to cover the entire and true cost of the service so that no deficit to be paid by taxpayers can be created by the public operation of an industry.

are overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Menard cured after doctors failed to help her.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me after doctors had failed, and I want other girls to know about it. During menstruation I suffered most intense pain low in the abdomen and in my limbs. At other times I had a heavy, depressed feeling which made my work seem twice as hard, and I grew pale and thin. The medicine the doctor gave me did not do me one bit of good, and I was thoroughly discouraged. The doctor wanted me to stop work, but, of course, I could not do that. I finally began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and felt better after taking the first bottle, and after taking six bottles I was entirely cured, and am now in perfect health, and I am so grateful for it."—Miss GEORGE MENARD, 537 E. 12nd St., New York City.

The United Sheet and Tin Plate company, with headquarters in Pittsburg and Columbus, has just been organized with the absorption of the following companies:

AGHAST

Stood the Cotton Brokers While the Daring Girl Climbed the Skyscraper.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 22—Business was paralyzed at the Cotton and Stock Exchanges and at the big financial concerns near the corner of Carondelet and Gravier street.

Miss Jennie Lands, the pretty young stenographer of the Legard Lime and Stone company, near skirts and hair flying to the wind and her pretty face flushed with excitement, was winning a wager by climbing to the top of the big Hibernia Bank and Trust company building, the thirteen-story skyscraper now in process of erection just opposite the Cotton Exchange.

Miss Lands had started out with a party and had gone to the seventh floor in the workmen's elevator. From there she mounted the ladders to the thirteenth story, reaching the top fully five minutes before her less daring companions. In the street below hundreds of men and women had gathered, choking the narrow streets and rendering business impossible.

SKELETON FOUND

By Workmen on Newark-Zanesville Electric Road Revives the Story of Strange Disappearance of Men 40 Years Ago at Hanover.

Zanesville, O., Aug. 22—Workmen excavating for the Columbus, Newark & Zanesville electric railway, unearthed a skeleton about one mile from Hanover, over the line in Licking county, yesterday. The bones crumbled as soon as exposed to the air.

The skeleton was found about 100 feet from the canal bank, near the locks and had been buried in a shallow pocket of clay that rested in a cleft in the solid rock.

The finding of the skeleton has revived the story of three wealthy cattle drovers who disappeared from Hanover mysteriously many years ago. They were returning from Pittsburg where they had marketed their cattle and were supposed to have large sums of money with them.

Two of the drovers reached the hotel at late twilight one evening about 40 years ago and at 9 o'clock in the evening they retired for the night. Next morning they were missing. The door of their room was locked, but the window was open.

About a year later another drover disappeared from the same room of the same hotel in the same manner.

There was some excitement over the affair, especially when a resident of the village came forward with a statement that he had seen the horses of the two men who had disappeared the year previous being led toward Columbus by an unknown man on the morning of their disappearance. There were no prosecutions, however.

The finding of the skeleton gives weight to the suspicion that some one entered the room occupied by the men, killed and robbed them and secreted their bodies.

AN OHIO GIRL

Claims She Was Forced From Mt. Vernon Home to Escape the Persecutions of a Wealthy Farmer--Disappears in Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 22—Lily King, a strikingly beautiful girl 20 years of age, has mysteriously disappeared from the home of Charles Turner Brown, a wealthy patent attorney, whether it is said she was forced to flee from her home in Mt. Vernon, Ohio, and a remarkable chain of circumstances centering about her disappearance leads the attorney to believe that the girl has been abducted.

On July 17, says Mr. Brown, Lily King, who is a brunette of remarkably refined appearance, rang the bell and begged to be allowed to spend the night in his house, as she was homeless and alone.

Lily King told the attorney that she had come to Chicago to escape the advances of O. N. Mosser, a wealthy old farmer living near Mt. Vernon, O.

She said that Mosser was 54 years of age and that he had a wife and a daughter 30 years of age.

"She fled to Chicago and asked my wife to protect her and we gave her a home," said Attorney Brown.

"Several weeks ago the neighbors told me that a handsomely dressed woman with blonde hair was making inquiries about our household habits.

"Wednesday morning a mysterious voice called me up over the phone and induced me to have Mrs. Brown come to my office.

"Mrs. Brown came, but the stranger failed to appear. When my wife returned home she found the front and back doors open, every evidence of a struggle having taken place and Lily gone. We have not heard from her since."

MOSSER TELLS HIS STORY.

Mt. Vernon, O., Aug. 22—In an interview given in the presence of his wife and confirmed by her O. N. Mosser denied that Lily King, who, he says, is a mulatto girl, was forced to flee from his home. He stated that an intimacy had existed between him and the woman and she had been sent to Chicago to enter a hospital. She was refused admittance because of her race.

Mosser declares the story of flight and cruelty is part of a blackmailing scheme engineered by Attorney Brown. Mosser says that he knows the present whereabouts of the girl.

ESCAPE

Of B. M. McIntosh, Engineer at Summit Station Clay Works Was a Narrow One.

(Advocate Special.)

Summit Station, O., Aug. 22—B. M. McIntosh, engineer at the Columbus Clay Works at this place, had a narrow escape from death. He was in the elevator that feeds the shale into the mill. He had forgotten that a number of the elevator buckets were full of shale, and called to the men to let down the elevator. The result was that the heavy buckets fell on him the contents of which buried him face down. The men who witnessed the accident saw his perilous position and immediately rushed to the rescue. Some of them caught hold of the elevator, while others began chopping a hole in the elevator. McIntosh was soon rescued, and after some time was restored to consciousness, and was able to walk to his home. The great wonder is that he was not killed by the heavy weight that fell on him.

ROOT

Admits That He Will Retire from the Cabinet About the Middle of the Winter.

New York, Aug. 22—As wired to the Advocate yesterday Secretary of War Elihu Root sailed for Liverpool on the Celtic, of the White Star Line. He goes to England to act with Senator Lodge and former Senator Turner, of Washington, as the United States representatives on the Alaskan boundary dispute. Before sailing the Secretary declared that he would according to his present plans, leave the Cabinet about the middle of the winter. He would not enter into any discussion of his future plans except to deny that he was going to enter actively in politics. He said that he would not be a candidate for Vice President, since Roosevelt would be the candidate for President, and the Vice President and the President, according to the constitution, could not come from the same state.

With the Secretary went Mrs. Elihu Root and Miss Edith Root, while on the same steamer sailed Judge John M. Dickinson, of Chicago; John W. Foster, of Indiana, and Hannis Taylor, of Alabama, who, as counselors for the United States, will present her side of the dispute before the commission.

A Sure Cure for Diarrhoea.

Coming as it does, in the hottest season, when a man can least afford to lose time, a sure and quick cure for diarrhoea is very desirable. Anyone who has given it a trial will tell you that the quickest remedy in use for this disease is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. There is no loss of time when it is used, as one or two doses of it will cure any ordinary attack. It never fails, not even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by all druggists.

Wasn't It Worth It.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 22—Charles Stewart saved the life of Patrick Barry, demanded 50 cents for his work, and Barry refused to pay.

Stewart is a deck hand on the steamer J. J. Hill. Barry fell into the river and would have drowned if Stewart had not gone to the rescue in a rowboat. When the two reached the bank Stewart asked Barry for 50 cents for his trouble. Barry refused and referred Stewart to the police with the statement "that the police have a fund for rewarding men for such work."

Gas Heater.

James W. Weakley and W. F. Ballinger, of the firm of Weakley & Ballinger, tinners, have just invented one of the finest and most substantial, as well as cheapest heaters and furnaces on the market. The heater is built on the coil plan, of sheet iron, and is an instantaneous heater, well calculated for use in school rooms, offices and the home. It can be set up any place in a room or basement, and is so arranged that it will maintain a splendid heating capacity with a small amount of gas, it being designed for use of natural gas. It is calculated that 960 feet of gas will run the heater, with two burners, for twenty-four hours, at a cost of only 17 cents, the two burners running to their full capacity. In moderate weather, however, this amount can be cut down just one half. The heater has a greater heating capacity than any other heater on the market at present, and will cost in the neighborhood of $35 for a large heater. The heaters are encased in galvanized iron.

The dealer has two choices: To sell unworthy sponges and make money, or to sell the best he can find and make little or nothing. We follow the latter method. Sponges get scarce, quality gets poorer and value creeps up. We select carefully and put prices on sponges that are as low as anybody can give. When you want a buggy, bath or any other kind of sponge, you will find a good selection here, and can know that whatever the price is it is the lowest to be had.

FAIR EXCHANGE.

A New Back for an Old One—How It Is Done in Newark.

The back aches at times with a dull, indelible feeling, making you weary and restless, piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so sore to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new one. Follow the example of this Newark citizen.

Mrs. N. W. Jarvis, No. 105 North Fifth street, says: "When I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's I had been sick for some time. In fact I could not do anything, I felt so poorly. I had a severe pain in my back and was terribly weak. I had been taking treatment, first one and another, but I felt no better. My attention was drawn to a reading notice in our paper about Doan's Kidney Pills. Bad backs like mine had been cured, could mine be also? I decided to try them. They did for me what other medicines failed to do. They gently aided the kidneys and the pain in the back over the kidneys left me."

THE MAJOR GENERAL.

Major General Dick, commander of the Ohio National Guardsmen, is proud of the troops under his command and the men, in turn are proud of their commander. The major general and the big camp under his personal direction has been ideal. The Advocate differs from General Dick in matters political, but when it comes to affairs military there is no disagreement. That General Dick understands his business as a soldier is admitted by everybody. With it he is a perfect gentleman and during the week has endeared himself to all of the newspaper boys who have been in camp.

"STRIKE"

Of Kirk's Musicians Fooled Major Rogers and Created a Lot of Fun in Camp.

There are many good bands attached to the regiments now in Camp William McKinley, but all agree that Kirk's military band attached to Major McQuigg's battalion of Engineers, is the best musical organization in camp. This band at the Buffalo exposition, took second prize to Sousa's famous organization, and the competition there was keen and sharp.

The band is led by William Kirk, who for a number of years was in the English army. He is a thorough musician and a most capable director. The concerts which this band gives in front of Major McQuigg's tent every night are high class musical entertainments, which are thoroughly enjoyed by those who visit these popular headquarters.

Friday night the features were the William Tell overture, which has never been played as well in Newark. When the last note died away there was a spontaneous outburst of applause for the band and their capable leader.

"The musicians' strike," was a great bit of acting on the part of the band members. After playing a few bars of the piece, one of the clarinet players gets up and quits in disgust. In spite of protestations he persists in persuading other members to leave, until he is finally ejected by the snare drummer. Finally only a cornet, a baritone and the bass drum are left, and ever these finally quit, the leader giving up also and taking a seat on the outside of the circle. Two of the players return and arrange to play. They start to play and on the second measure the entire band takes up the time and march back to their places.

Major Rogers and Captain Herron sat with Major McQuigg, and the two former were thoroughly fooled, Major McQuigg carrying out the deception. The two army officers suggested that the members of the band be taken in charge by the guard, but when they saw the band in place, they enjoyed hearty laugh at their own expense.

LAST DAY

Of Real Work at Camp—Thousands of Visitors Are Expected Here Tomorrow.

This is practically the last day of real camp. By taps tonight the work of the camp will have been done and the benefit secured. Tomorrow the camp will be thronged with visitors, some guesses being for 10,000 persons, and it is not possible strictly to adhere to routine with visitors overrunning the camp. Regulations will be relaxed somewhat during the day and more so at night, though passes will be just as hard to get tomorrow as on any other day. The men usually spend the last night in camp in a noisy, good natured way. Early Monday morning camp will be broken and by early afternoon all the tents will have been struck and the 6,000 guardsmen will be on the way to their homes.

ABSOLUTE CURE FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

No Matter How Long You Have Had It. NAU'S DYSPEPSIA CURE—IT CURES THE CAUSE.

For 20 years until within the last 15 months I have been greatly troubled with indigestion and have used a great many remedies without obtaining any permanent relief. About the 15th of June, 1900, I commenced using Nau's Dyspepsia Cure, and am pleased to say that I consider myself entirely cured of all stomach troubles. I have delayed expressing to you my opinion of your valuable remedy until such a time as I could say to you that I am cured and as I am now, I am glad to do so. At the time I began to use Nau's Dyspepsia Cure, my health was in a critical condition and my friends had almost given up hopes of my recovery, and I am satisfied in my opinion that had it not been for Nau's Dyspepsia Cure, I would not be alive to write this letter. Feud Results in Death of Father and Son—The Tragedy at Mt. Union Church.

Somerset, Ky., Aug. 22—Arnos Acro and his son "Doc" were shot to death by Granville Tablor and "Eph" Rector at the Mount Union church, near here last night. Tablor and Rector, it is alleged, insulted a relative of the Acres, and when the men met in front of the church, William Acres, another son, remonstrated. A fight ensued in which both the father and son were instantly killed. William Acres took refuge in the church. Tablor and Rector followed with drawn revolvers and were only prevented from shooting him by the interference of other members of the congregation. Both men were arrested and taken to Monticello. Pierce Hubbard, a bystander, was fatally shot by a stray bullet.

SISTER

MARY LEFT THE CONVENT AND MARRIED

Lover Followed Her When She Was Transferred to an Omaha Convent—Married by a Priest

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 22—The Catholic community was shocked last night by information of the elopement of Sister Mary Louisa, of St. Agnes Convent, at Eighteenth and Cass streets, with a young carpenter and mechanic, who had been employed on the convent grounds. Ed Johnson is the youth's name. Three afternoons ago the sister stole away from the convent at vespers. In her room that evening was found a brief note to the Mother Superior. It read:

"If I have sinned pray for me. 'SISTER MARY LOUISA.'"

The attachment between the Sister of Mercy and young Johnson is one of long standing. The Mother Superior knew of it, and did all in her power to persuade Sister Mary Louisa to banish the love of the man from her mind.

When Sister Mary was missed and the note was discovered the elopement was feared, but the Sisters of St. Agnes had hopes of the errant's return till yesterday, when word came of her marriage at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, the day following the disappearance. Sister Mary's name before taking the veil was Shea. Her home was at O'Connor, Neb. It was in the convent there that she was first a novice and then took orders. She was a Sister when her acquaintance with Johnson began. His family lived at O'Connor. The senior Johnson was a carpenter whom the sisters commissioned to do the chores at the convent. Love came to the sister and the carpenter's son almost at sight. Both were young and attractive. Sister Mary was 20, her lover 22.

The man wanted the sister to run away with him then, but could not obtain her consent. The consequences of the devotion were evaded at the time by the transfer of Sister Mary to the Omaha convent. Johnson later learned where she was and followed her. Three years intervened between their meetings.

The Superior at St. Agnes liked the youth's looks when he first asked for work. As he showed a disposition to do tasks with care he was entrusted with small tasks about the premises. Sister Mary and Johnson were discovered in their friendship and confession followed. The man was discharged, but continued to visit the convent grounds. He was arrested at the direction of the Sister Superior and kept in the city jail for three days as a suspicious character. That was a fortnight ago. The sisters believed the danger was past when Sister Mary disappeared. A Catholic priest solemnized the ceremony, and the couple went at once to Clinton, Ia., where they are living. Johnson's father is now a resident of Omaha and furnished the money for them to start housekeeping.

WOMEN

With Brooms Took Part in a Riot Against Non-Unionists—Police Were Helpless.

MoKeesport, Pa., Aug. 22—Women, mixed with men, engaged in a street riot here yesterday. The trouble took place on Thirteenth street with a number of workmen employed at the Port Ven tin plate mill, where the strike declared three months ago still remains unsettled.

The workmen had a keg of beer and the strikers attempted to take it from them. Shots were exchanged but not one was injured.

The women, armed with brooms and other weapons, took part in the affair. Several of the workmen were badly beaten by the attack of the Amazons, who for the first time have taken a hand in the strike riots here.

The women who conducted a boarding house where a number of the non-unionists are quartered were chased several squares by the infuriated women strike sympathizers and fell from exhaustion.

The police were unable to cope with the mob, which numbered over 100.
